
What a surprize!

Posted by Ginger - 2007/12/22 14:21

I knew something was up when my bookmark redirected me. I must say I'm impressed! I'm hoping this is still in the process of getting all old topics transferred. It's about time you updated and I must say....GOOD JOB HERALD!

Wishful thinking :) If they don't there are going to be a lot of upset people.

Get ready for a lot of upset people, then. :laugh:

New site huh? Well, on the bright side, people like Dubbs and Decaf get to start off from scratch on their smite totals again. ;)

And it looks like each comment gets its own karma ranking not a continuous count on the poster.

After checking my morning coffee to make sure it wasn't spiked, I realized that DH did indeed change overnight. Certainly different to say the least, however navigating seems as challenging as an armenian dwarf trying to get from the Bronx to Seward Alaska. And to my dismay, PMs were deleted...not a good thing. And as I flounder through this new Alice in Wonderland site, I'm sure I find a few more irritating surprises. BUT, it is a far 'classier site', likely will take some time getting around...this could be a good thing. Now, will the reporting of PERTENANT NEWS increase as well? Let's hope so.

OK where the %#$# is spell check?!

This is giving me a headache.

Herald needs to hire a new editorial staff first, then worry about web design...

Nice, they replaced many of the posts with old topics with our real names. The DH better clean that up quick before they face privacy complaints.

I like this kind of karma ranking functionality better.

- This was supposed to be quoted with Betz comment, guess I did it wrong -

Now that I see how it works, I like it better as well. :)

Isn't it great how they used our real names. Now that really makes you feel comfortable about posting anything. (ha ha ha)

Maybe we should get some advice from an attorney? Or better yet maybe the DH should just fire their tech and the one who didn't figure things out before they published it on line.

Go into your profile and make sure that you haven't used your real name in the "Name" field.

I keep trying to upload an image for myself but it won't do it. I need my individuality back!

The new site design is terrible! It takes forever to navigate to anything. I prefer clear, concise newsites such as drudgereport.com. Even the Deseret News site is easier to navigate than this. Bad move DH. :angry:

I have also tried this. Wish it would work.

Nope. the posts that had real names in them were posts before they started the new format.
It means that THEY were the ones who did the conversion. Otherwise why would it come in as "Goodintentions NOW"
You know what I mean?
