This thread discusses the Content article: Archuleta moves on

I wish all the contestants were as gracious when they were being critiqued as David, Brooke and Syesha are.

The only two I would buy CD's from are David Cook and Michael Johns (if he records blues) but there is no question that David Archuleta is a talented kid with an amazing voice. He seems like a sweet kid.

I think David A is the only one with a lock on top 3 but after Michael being booted last night before some others, nothing would really shock me the rest season. David A going soon would be the only exception to that. I say that as a strong David Cook fan.
