
Clinton poised for W.Va. win; Obama looks ahead

Posted by Marylb - 2008/05/13 12:05

This thread discusses the Content article: Clinton poised for W.Va. win; Obama looks ahead

I'm going to try and be delicate here so here goes:

Clinton was always expected to take WV so no new news on that. This is what I find interesting when Wolfson says:

"I think Democrats across the country tomorrow will be asking themselves why Senator Obama -- with all of his money, with all of the great press, with voters being told he was the inevitable nominee -- why did Senator Obama lose West Virginia by 15 points or so? What does it say about his candidacy at this date that he can't beat Senator Clinton in a key swing state?" Clinton spokesman Howard Wolfson told NBC's "Today" Tuesday."

What I find much more compelling is how the voters of WV will vote for her after she said she corners the vote of UNEDUCATED WHITE PEOPLE.

If I were a voter and wanted to vote for her I think I'd have to do it with a bag over my head so no one knew who I was. That or I will do it proudly with the rest of the uneducated white folk.

I mean, come on now. How do you put that remark out of your mind as you vote! Oh, nevermind...I think I know why. lol

Go for it WV! But oh well, too little, too late.

=====

Re:Clinton poised for W.Va. win; Obama looks ahead

Posted by ericmiami - 2008/05/13 12:11

Marylb wrote:

This thread discusses the Content article: Clinton poised for W.Va. win; Obama looks ahead

I'm going to try and be delicate here so here goes:

Clinton was always expected to take WV so no new news on that. This is what I find interesting when Wolfson says:

"I think Democrats across the country tomorrow will be asking themselves why Senator Obama -- with all of his money, with all of the great press, with voters being told he was the inevitable nominee -- why did Senator Obama lose West Virginia by 15 points or so? What does it say about his candidacy at this date that he can't beat Senator Clinton in a key swing state?" Clinton spokesman Howard Wolfson told NBC's "Today" Tuesday."

What I find much more compelling is how the voters of WV will vote for her after she said she corners the vote of UNEDUCATED WHITE PEOPLE.

If I were a voter and wanted to vote for her I think I'd have to do it with a bag over my head so no one knew who I was. That or I will do it proudly with the rest of the uneducated white folk.

I mean, come on now. How do you put that remark out of your mind as you vote! Oh, nevermind...I think I know why. lol

Go for it WV! But oh well, too little, too late.

You left plenty unsaid. I spent Saturday morning writing to the editor of every WV newspaper I could find online asking those poor Clinton fans if they really thought she was one of them. That was an education.

=====

Re:Clinton poised for W.Va. win; Obama looks ahead

Posted by Marylb - 2008/05/13 12:18

ericmiami wrote:

Marylb wrote:

This thread discusses the Content article: Clinton poised for W.Va. win; Obama looks ahead

I'm going to try and be delicate here so here goes:

Clinton was always expected to take WV so no new news on that. This is what I find interesting when Wolfson says:

"I think Democrats across the country tomorrow will be asking themselves why Senator Obama -- with all of his money, with all of the great press, with voters being told he was the inevitable nominee -- why did Senator Obama lose West Virginia by 15 points or so? What does it say about his candidacy at this date that he can't beat Senator Clinton in a key swing state?" Clinton spokesman Howard Wolfson told NBC's "Today" Tuesday."

What I find much more compelling is how the voters of WV will vote for her after she said she corners the vote of UNEDUCATED WHITE PEOPLE.

If I were a voter and wanted to vote for her I think I'd have to do it with a bag over my head so no one knew who I was. That or I will do it proudly with the rest of the uneducated white folk.

I mean, come on now. How do you put that remark out of your mind as you vote! Oh, nevermind...I think I know why. lol

Go for it WV! But oh well, too little, too late.

You left plenty unsaid. I spent Saturday morning writing to the editor of every WV newspaper I could find online asking those poor Clinton fans if they really thought she was one of them. That was an education.

I was trying to be delicate about Hillary's indelicate remark. lol

Good for you! I bet that was an eye opener. She is no more one of them than the man in the moon but she may have slept at the holiday inn because she can sure fake a southern drawl when she wants to.

=====

Re:Clinton poised for W.Va. win; Obama looks ahead

Posted by Blondie - 2008/05/13 12:31

Maryl b wrote:

ericmiami wrote:

Maryl b wrote:

This thread discusses the Content article: Clinton poised for W.Va. win; Obama looks ahead

I'm going to try and be delicate here so here goes:

Clinton was always expected to take WV so no new news on that. This is what I find interesting when Wolfson says:

"I think Democrats across the country tomorrow will be asking themselves why Senator Obama -- with all of his money, with all of the great press, with voters being told he was the inevitable nominee -- why did Senator Obama lose West Virginia by 15 points or so? What does it say about his candidacy at this date that he can't beat Senator Clinton in a key swing state?" Clinton spokesman Howard Wolfson told NBC's "Today" Tuesday."

What I find much more compelling is how the voters of WV will vote for her after she said she corners the vote of UNEDUCATED WHITE PEOPLE.

If I were a voter and wanted to vote for her I think I'd have to do it with a bag over my head so no one knew who I was. That or I will do it proudly with the rest of the uneducated white folk.

I mean, come on now. How do you put that remark out of your mind as you vote! Oh, nevermind...I think I know why. lol

Go for it WV! But oh well, too little, too late.

You left plenty unsaid. I spent Saturday morning writing to the editor of every WV newspaper I could find online asking those poor Clinton fans if they really thought she was one of them. That was an education.

I was trying to be delicate about Hillary's indelicate remark. lol

Good for you! I bet that was an eye opener. She is no more one of them than the man in the moon but she may have slept at the holiday inn because she can sure fake a southern drawl when she wants to.

If I see Hilary acting like a regular person again, I think I will puke....Her persona's are getting very OLD..... Glad it is not just me seeing her obvious takes on the cultures she is so willing to serve. :angry:

=====

Re:Clinton poised for W.Va. win; Obama looks ahead

Posted by ericmiami - 2008/05/13 13:25

Blondie wrote:

Maryl b wrote:

ericmiami wrote:

Maryl b wrote:

This thread discusses the Content article: Clinton poised for W.Va. win; Obama looks ahead

I'm going to try and be delicate here so here goes:

Clinton was always expected to take WV so no new news on that. This is what I find interesting when Wolfson says:

"I think Democrats across the country tomorrow will be asking themselves why Senator Obama -- with all of his money, with all of the great press, with voters being told he was the inevitable nominee -- why did Senator Obama lose West Virginia by 15 points or so? What does it say about his candidacy at this date that he can't beat Senator Clinton in a key swing state?" Clinton spokesman Howard Wolfson told NBC's "Today" Tuesday."

What I find much more compelling is how the voters of WV will vote for her after she said she corners the vote of UNEDUCATED WHITE PEOPLE.

If I were a voter and wanted to vote for her I think I'd have to do it with a bag over my head so no one knew who I was. That or I will do it proudly with the rest of the uneducated white folk.

I mean, come on now. How do you put that remark out of your mind as you vote! Oh, nevermind...I think I know why. lol

Go for it WV! But oh well, too little, too late.

You left plenty unsaid. I spent Saturday morning writing to the editor of every WV newspaper I could find online asking those poor Clinton fans if they really thought she was one of them. That was an education.

I was trying to be delicate about Hillary's indelicate remark. lol

Good for you! I bet that was an eye opener. She is no more one of them than the man in the moon but she may have slept at the holiday inn because she can sure fake a southern drawl when she wants to.

If I see Hilary acting like a regular person again, I think I will puke....Her persona's are getting very OLD..... Glad it is not just me seeing her obvious takes on the cultures she is so willing to serve. :angry:

Today she's the Coal Miner's Daughter, next week she'll be singing "My Old Kentucky Home." I really think she'll quit the race if she can ever remember what state she lives in.

Re:Clinton poised for W.Va. win; Obama looks ahead

Posted by Blondie - 2008/05/13 13:31

ericmiami wrote:

Blondie wrote:

Maryl b wrote:

ericmiami wrote:

Maryl b wrote:

This thread discusses the Content article: Clinton poised for W.Va. win; Obama looks ahead

I'm going to try and be delicate here so here goes:

Clinton was always expected to take WV so no new news on that. This is what I find interesting when Wolfson says:

"I think Democrats across the country tomorrow will be asking themselves why Senator Obama -- with all of his money, with all of the great press, with voters being told he was the inevitable nominee -- why did Senator Obama lose West Virginia by 15 points or so? What does it say about his candidacy at this date that he can't beat Senator Clinton in a key swing state?" Clinton spokesman Howard Wolfson told NBC's "Today" Tuesday."

What I find much more compelling is how the voters of WV will vote for her after she said she corners the vote of UNEDUCATED WHITE PEOPLE.

If I were a voter and wanted to vote for her I think I'd have to do it with a bag over my head so no one knew who I was. That or I will do it proudly with the rest of the uneducated white folk.

I mean, come on now. How do you put that remark out of your mind as you vote! Oh, nevermind...I think I know why. lol

Go for it WV! But oh well, too little, too late.

You left plenty unsaid. I spent Saturday morning writing to the editor of every WV newspaper I could find online asking those poor Clinton fans if they really thought she was one of them. That was an education.

I was trying to be delicate about Hillary's indelicate remark. lol

Good for you! I bet that was an eye opener. She is no more one of them than the man in the moon but she may have slept at the holiday inn because she can sure fake a southern drawl when she wants to.

If I see Hilary acting like a regular person again, I think I will puke....Her persona's are getting very OLD..... Glad it is not just me seeing her obvious takes on the cultures she is so willing to serve. :angry:

Today she's the Coal Miner's Daughter, next week she'll be singing "My Old Kentucky Home." I really think she'll quit the race if she can ever remember what state she lives in.

Great laugh of the day.....:woohoo: :woohoo:

=====

Re:Clinton poised for W.Va. win; Obama looks ahead

Posted by ericmiami - 2008/05/13 14:15

Poor Hillary! The Clintonistas being beaten badly by a person of color who is a first-term senator. And to top it off, he has offered to help her pay off the campaign debt. That must have made them blow their tops in private!

=====

Re:Clinton poised for W.Va. win; Obama looks ahead

Posted by Everybody Loves Raymond - 2008/05/13 14:17

It matters not how many votes the Shrew gets in WV. Obama bin Laden will get the nomination of the Commie Dems and thus lead them to failure in November in the grand tradition of Kerry, Gore, Dukakis, Mondale, Carter, and McGovern.

McCain will beat the Magic Black man with a 50 state sweep. Only the cesspool of Washington DC will vote for him and you know who mostly lives there.

=====

Re:Clinton poised for W.Va. win; Obama looks ahead

Posted by ThomasK - 2008/05/13 15:07

Everybody Loves Raymond wrote:

It matters not how many votes the Shrew gets in WV. Obama bin Laden will get the nomination of the Commie Dems and thus lead them to failure in November in the grand tradition of Kerry, Gore, Dukakis, Mondale, Carter, and McGovern.

McCain will beat the Magic Black man with a 50 state sweep. Only the cesspool of Washington DC will vote for him and you know who mostly lives there.

I'm a registered Republican, and all I can say is; you're one dumb son-of-a-@#$$%&!

=====

Re:Clinton poised for W.Va. win; Obama looks ahead

Posted by Everybody Loves Raymond - 2008/05/13 15:15

Thomask wrote:

Everybody Loves Raymond wrote:

It matters not how many votes the Shrew gets in WV. Obama bin Laden will get the nomination of the Commie Dems and thus lead them to failure in November in the grand tradition of Kerry, Gore, Dukakis, Mondale, Carter, and McGovern.

McCain will beat the Magic Black man with a 50 state sweep. Only the cesspool of Washington DC will vote for him and you know who mostly lives there.

I'm a registered Republican, and all I can say is; you're one dumb son-of-a-@#$$%&!

With thinking like that you should be a Dim, uh I mean, a Dem.

=====

Re:Clinton poised for W.Va. win; Obama looks ahead

Posted by Thomask - 2008/05/13 15:33

Everybody Loves Raymond wrote:

Thomask wrote:

Everybody Loves Raymond wrote:

It matters not how many votes the Shrew gets in WV. Obama bin Laden will get the nomination of the Commie Dems and thus lead them to failure in November in the grand tradition of Kerry, Gore, Dukakis, Mondale, Carter, and McGovern.

McCain will beat the Magic Black man with a 50 state sweep. Only the cesspool of Washington DC will vote for him and you know who mostly lives there.

I'm a registered Republican, and all I can say is; you're one dumb son-of-a-@#$$%&!

With thinking like that you should be a Dim, uh I mean, a Dem.

Whatever, you're a bigoted pig and it's getting really tiring. READ MY LIPS, Republicans want nothing to do with pigs like you.

=====

Re:Clinton poised for W.Va. win; Obama looks ahead

Posted by Everybody Loves Raymond - 2008/05/13 16:29

Thomask wrote:

Everybody Loves Raymond wrote:

Thomask wrote:

Everybody Loves Raymond wrote:

It matters not how many votes the Shrew gets in WV. Obama bin Laden will get the nomination of the Commie Dems and thus lead them to failure in November in the grand tradition of Kerry, Gore, Dukakis, Mondale, Carter, and McGovern.

McCain will beat the Magic Black man with a 50 state sweep. Only the cesspool of Washington DC will vote for him and you know who mostly lives there.

I'm a registered Republican, and all I can say is; you're one dumb son-of-a-@#$$%&!

With thinking like that you should be a Dim, uh I mean, a Dem.

Whatever, you're a bigoted pig and it's getting really tiring. READ MY LIPS, Republicans want nothing to do with pigs like you.

I am neither a pig nor bigot nor a Democrat when I point out the flaws of Obama bin Laden. I am a patriot.

=====

Re:Clinton poised for W.Va. win; Obama looks ahead

Posted by truthhurts - 2008/05/13 17:38

Everybody Loves Raymond wrote:

I am neither a pig nor bigot nor a Democrat when I point out the flaws of Obama bin Laden. I am a patriot.
http://www.gifs.net/Animation11/Everything_Else/Clocks/Cuckoo_clock.gif

=====

Re:Clinton poised for W.Va. win; Obama looks ahead

Posted by ericmiami - 2008/05/13 17:39

Everybody Loves Raymond wrote:

Thomask wrote:

Everybody Loves Raymond wrote:

Thomask wrote:

Everybody Loves Raymond wrote:

It matters not how many votes the Shrew gets in WV. Obama bin Laden will get the nomination of the Commie Dems and thus lead them to failure in November in the grand tradition of Kerry, Gore, Dukakis, Mondale, Carter, and McGovern.

McCain will beat the Magic Black man with a 50 state sweep. Only the cesspool of Washington DC will vote for him and you know who mostly lives there.

I'm a registered Republican, and all I can say is; you're one dumb son-of-a-@#%&!

With thinking like that you should be a Dim, uh I mean, a Dem.

Whatever, you're a bigoted pig and it's getting really tiring. READ MY LIPS, Republicans want nothing to do with pigs like you.

I am neither a pig nor bigot nor a Democrat when I point out the flaws of Obama bin Laden. I am a patriot.

Patriotism is the last refuge of the scoundrel. Thanks for being a living example of that old phrase, Raymond. And who appointed you a patriot?

=====

Re:Clinton poised for W.Va. win; Obama looks ahead

Posted by Everybody Loves Raymond - 2008/05/13 20:42

ericmiami wrote:

Patriotism is the last refuge of the scoundrel. Thanks for being a living example of that old phrase, Raymond. And who appointed you a patriot?

The IRS. They do it each April when I pay my taxes to protect America from the muslims and the likes of you.

=====

Re:Clinton poised for W.Va. win; Obama looks ahead

Posted by Betz - 2008/05/13 20:46

Everybody Loves Raymond wrote:

ericmiami wrote:

Patriotism is the last refuge of the scoundrel. Thanks for being a living example of that old phrase, Raymond. And who appointed you a patriot?

The IRS. They do it each April when I pay my taxes to protect America from the muslims and the likes of you.

Dude, you should have your own HBO Comedy show. :laugh:

=====

Re:Clinton poised for W.Va. win; Obama looks ahead

Posted by prisonpig - 2008/05/13 21:07

Raymond is about as much of a patriot as is Sean Hannity! However, their both a$$holes! Raymond, keep telling yourself that you're a great American. Personally, I think you are one paranoid S.O.B. who is brainwashed. When I first began reading Raymond's posts I actually thought he was being sarcastic, but I think he is really a genuine nutjob!:blink:

=====

Re:Clinton poised for W.Va. win; Obama looks ahead

Posted by Betz - 2008/05/13 22:08

prisonpig wrote:

Raymond is about as much of a patriot as is Sean Hannity! However, their both a$$holes! Raymond, keep telling yourself that you're a great American. Personally, I think you are one paranoid S.O.B. who is brainwashed. When I first began reading Raymond's posts I actually thought he was being sarcastic, but I think he is really a genuine nutjob!:blink:

I'm thinking the opposite. The more posts of his I read, the more I think he's just saying this crap to get a rise out of people. :huh:

=====

Re:Clinton poised for W.Va. win; Obama looks ahead

Posted by woody - 2008/05/13 22:18

Betz wrote:

prisonpig wrote:

Raymond is about as much of a patriot as is Sean Hannity! However, their both a$$holes! Raymond, keep telling yourself that you're a great American. Personally, I think you are one paranoid S.O.B. who is brainwashed. When I first began reading Raymond's posts I actually thought he was being sarcastic, but I think he is really a genuine nutjob!:blink:

I'm thinking the opposite. The more posts of his I read, the more I think he's just saying this crap to get a rise out of people. :huh:

Does that make him smarter than all of you. Even when you know he is jerking your chain, you still lose it?

=====

Re:Clinton poised for W.Va. win; Obama looks ahead

Posted by Betz - 2008/05/13 22:41

woody wrote:

Betz wrote:

prisonpig wrote:

Raymond is about as much of a patriot as is Sean Hannity! However, their both a$$holes! Raymond, keep telling yourself that you're a great American. Personally, I think you are one paranoid S.O.B. who is brainwashed. When I first began reading Raymond's posts I actually thought he was being sarcastic, but I think he is really a genuine nutjob!:blink:

I'm thinking the opposite. The more posts of his I read, the more I think he's just saying this crap to get a rise out of people. :huh:

Does that make him smarter than all of you. Even when you know he is jerking your chain, you still lose it?

What did I lose? :huh:

=====

Re:Clinton poised for W.Va. win; Obama looks ahead

Posted by ericmiami - 2008/05/14 05:11

Betz wrote:

woody wrote:

Betz wrote:

prisonpig wrote:

Raymond is about as much of a patriot as is Sean Hannity! However, their both a$$holes! Raymond, keep telling yourself that you're a great American. Personally, I think you are one paranoid S.O.B. who is brainwashed. When I first began reading Raymond's posts I actually thought he was being sarcastic, but I think he is really a genuine nutjob!:blink:

I'm thinking the opposite. The more posts of his I read, the more I think he's just saying this crap to get a rise out of people. :huh:

Does that make him smarter than all of you. Even when you know he is jerking your chain, you still lose it?

What did I lose? :huh:

How dare you people make fun of a certified tax payer? Not everybody with a paper route makes enough money to pay taxes. Go Raymond!

=====

Re:Clinton poised for W.Va. win; Obama looks ahead

Posted by ThomasK - 2008/05/14 09:38

woody wrote:

Betz wrote:

prisonpig wrote:

Raymond is about as much of a patriot as is Sean Hannity! However, their both a$$holes! Raymond, keep telling yourself that you're a great American. Personally, I think you are one paranoid S.O.B. who is brainwashed. When I first began reading Raymond's posts I actually thought he was being sarcastic, but I think he is really a genuine nutjob!:blink:

I'm thinking the opposite. The more posts of his I read, the more I think he's just saying this crap to get a rise out of people. :huh:

Does that make him smarter than all of you. Even when you know he is jerking your chain, you still lose it?

I'm not losing anything woody. He continually makes racist remarks. Any association to the Republican Party with this kind of thinking is repulsive. There is nothing wrong with political bantering back and forth. The more I learn of Mr. Obamas political views, the less I consider him an acceptable choice. It has nothing to do with his race. Raymond's points are racist.

Truthfully woody, knowing there are people like Raymond that would vote against Mr. Obama just because he is black, makes me consider my vote for him, just to counter this bigotry. Think about, are all of our problems going to be solved by politicians? Or at this point in our society, is it time to send a message and say, enough with bigotry? It's still a long time till November.

=====

Re:Clinton poised for W.Va. win; Obama looks ahead

Posted by Everybody Loves Raymond - 2008/05/14 10:42

ThomasK wrote:

I'm not losing anything woody. He continually makes racist remarks. Any association to the Republican Party with this kind of thinking is repulsive. There is nothing wrong with political bantering back and forth. The more I learn of Mr. Obamas political views, the less I consider him an acceptable choice. It has nothing to do with his race. Raymond's points are racist.

Truthfully woody, knowing there are people like Raymond that would vote against Mr. Obama just because he is black, makes me consider my vote for him, just to counter this bigotry. Think about, are all of our problems going to be solved by politicians? Or at this point in our society, is it time to send a message and say, enough with bigotry? It's still a long time till November.

Obama bin Laden's entire candidacy is based on his race! Any white man with that thin of a resume wouldn't have gotten past the Iowa caucus. You think I am a racist because I point out how unfit he is for president, fine. You think I am a racist, fine. I don't give a ^%$#. The point is he is not qualified because of the racist anti-american church he went to. He is not qualified because his wife has never been proud of America. He is not qualified because he cannot not even bring himself to cover his heart with his hand to show respect for this nation. He is not qualified because he will go to Tehran and sell us out in his talks with those muslim madmen who cannot be trusted. He is not qualified because his cradle to grave socialism will bankrupt us. He is not qualified because he will pull out of Iraq in the middle of our success and allow Osama bin Laden access to the oil needed by America.

He is not qualified. And when I point this out I am called a racist. Well, I am glad white guilt has gotten to you since you are nothing but a RINO. Go join the Dems and quit diluting our GOP gene pool, friend. Bet you voted for fatso tree-hugger in 2000 and traitor Navy man in 2004.

McCain is the way.

=====

Re:Clinton poised for W.Va. win; Obama looks ahead

Posted by ericmiami - 2008/05/14 11:01

Everybody Loves Raymond wrote:

Thomask wrote:

I'm not losing anything woody. He continually makes racist remarks. Any association to the Republican Party with this kind of thinking is repulsive. There is nothing wrong with political bantering back and forth. The more I learn of Mr. Obamas political views, the less I consider him an acceptable choice. It has nothing to do with his race. Raymond's points are racist.

Truthfully woody, knowing there are people like Raymond that would vote against Mr. Obama just because he is black, makes me consider my vote for him, just to counter this bigotry. Think about, are all of our problems going to be solved by politicians? Or at this point in our society, is it time to send a message and say, enough with bigotry? It's still a long time till November.

Obama bin Laden's entire candidacy is based on his race! Any white man with that thin of a resume wouldn't have gotten past the Iowa caucus. You think I am a racist because I point out how unfit he is for president, fine. You think I am a racist, fine. I don't give a ^%$#. The point is he is not qualified because of the racist anti-american church he went to. He is not qualified because his wife has never been proud of America. He is not qualified because he cannot not even bring himself to cover his heart with his hand to show respect for this nation. He is not qualified because he will go to Tehran and sell us out in his talks with those muslim madmen who cannot be trusted. He is not qualified because his cradle to grave socialism will bankrupt us. He is not qualified because he will pull out of Iraq in the middle of our success and allow Osama bin Laden access to the oil needed by America.

He is not qualified. And when I point this out I am called a racist. Well, I am glad white guilt has gotten to you since you are nothing but a RINO. Go join the Dems and quit diluting our GOP gene pool, friend. Bet you voted for fatso tree-hugger in 2000 and traitor Navy man in 2004.

McCain is the way.

I should thank Raymond for the votes that an obviously well-thought out opinion such as his brings to the liberal side. But I won't. I'm sure being Raymond is thanks enough.

=====

Re:Clinton poised for W.Va. win; Obama looks ahead

Posted by Thomask - 2008/05/14 11:06

Everybody Loves Raymond wrote:

Thomask wrote:

I'm not losing anything woody. He continually makes racist remarks. Any association to the Republican Party with this kind of thinking is repulsive. There is nothing wrong with political bantering back and forth. The more I learn of Mr. Obamas political views, the less I consider him an acceptable choice. It has nothing to do with his race. Raymond's points are racist.

Truthfully woody, knowing there are people like Raymond that would vote against Mr. Obama just because he is black, makes me consider my vote for him, just to counter this bigotry. Think about, are all of our problems going to be solved by politicians? Or at this point in our society, is it time to send a message and say, enough with bigotry? It's still a long time till November.

Obama bin Laden's entire candidacy is based on his race! Any white man with that thin of a resume wouldn't have gotten past the Iowa caucus. You think I am a racist because I point out how unfit he is for president, fine. You think I am a racist, fine. I don't give a ^%$#. The point is he is not qualified because of the racist anti-american church he went to. He is not qualified because his wife has never been proud of america. He is not qualified because he cannot not even bring himself to cover his heart with his hand to show respect for this nation. He is not qualified because he will go to Tehran and sell us out in his talks with those muslim madmen who cannot be trusted. He is not qualified because his cradel to grave socialism will bankrupt us. He is not qualified because he will pull out of Iraq in the middle of our success and allow Osama bin Laden access to the oil needed by America.

He is not qualified. And when I point this out I am called a racist. Well, I am glad white guilt has gotten to you since you are nothing but a RINO. Go join the Dems and quit dilluting our GOP gene pool, friend. Bet you voted for fatso tree-hugger in 2000 and traitor Navy man in 2004.

McCain is the way.

You're the one losing it, actually you've already lost it. You finally got your ass half way off your bigoted saddle. I'm not here to defend Mr Obama. At least you started talking about some issues. Even if they are a bit twisted and misunderstood. Like I said, I don't like many of his political views. But not in the way you see them.

=====

Re:Clinton poised for W.Va. win; Obama looks ahead

Posted by Everybody Loves Raymond - 2008/05/14 11:16

Thomask wrote:

Everybody Loves Raymond wrote:

Thomask wrote:

I'm not losing anything woody. He continually makes racist remarks. Any association to the Republican Party with this kind of thinking is repulsive. There is nothing wrong with political bantering back and forth. The more I learn of Mr. Obamas political views, the less I consider him an acceptable choice. It has nothing to do with his race. Raymond's points are racist.

Truthfully woody, knowing there are people like Raymond that would vote against Mr. Obama just because he is black, makes me consider my vote for him, just to counter this bigotry. Think about, are all of our problems going to be solved by politicians? Or at this point in our society, is it time to send a message and say, enough with bigotry? It's still a long time till November.

Obama bin Laden's entire candidacy is based on his race! Any white man with that thin of a resume wouldn't have gotten past the Iowa caucus. You think I am a racist because I point out how unfit he is for president, fine. You think I am a racist, fine. I don't give a ^%$#. The point is he is not qualified because of the racist anti-american church he went to. He is not qualified because his wife has never been proud of america. He is not qualified because he cannot not even bring himself to cover his heart with his hand to show respect for this nation. He is not qualified because he will go to Tehran and sell us out in his talks with those muslim madmen who cannot be trusted. He is not qualified because his cradel to grave socialism will bankrupt us. He is not qualified because he will pull out of Iraq in the middle of our success and allow Osama bin Laden access to the oil needed by America.

He is not qualified. And when I point this out I am called a racist. Well, I am glad white guilt has gotten to you since you are nothing but a RINO. Go join the Dems and quit dilluting our GOP gene pool, friend. Bet you voted for fatso tree-hugger in 2000 and traitor Navy man in 2004.

McCain is the way.

You're the one losing it, actually you've already lost it. You finally got your ass half way off your bigoted saddle. I'm not here to defend Mr Obama. At least you started talking about some issues. Even if they are a bit twisted and misunderstood. Like I said, I don't like many of his political views. But not in the way you see them.

Twisted and Misunderstood? Look in the dictionary under Thomask and you will see the very diffinition of "White Guilt."

=====

Re:Clinton poised for W.Va. win; Obama looks ahead

Posted by Thomask - 2008/05/14 11:42

Everybody Loves Raymond wrote:

Thomask wrote:

Everybody Loves Raymond wrote:

Thomask wrote:

I'm not losing anything woody. He continually makes racist remarks. Any association to the Republican Party with this kind of thinking is repulsive. There is nothing wrong with political bantering back and forth. The more I learn of Mr. Obamas political views, the less I consider him an acceptable choice. It has nothing to do with his race. Raymond's points are racist.

Truthfully woody, knowing there are people like Raymond that would vote against Mr. Obama just because he is black, makes me consider my vote for him, just to counter this bigotry. Think about, are all of our problems going to be solved by politicians? Or at this point in our society, is it time to send a message and say, enough with bigotry? It's still a long time till November.

Obama bin Laden's entire candidicy is based on his race! Any white man with that thin of a resume wouldn't have gotten past the Iowa caucus. You think I am a racist because I point out how unfit he is for president, fine. You think I am a racist, fine. I don't give a ^%$#. The point is he is not qualified because of the racist anti-american church he went to. He is not qualified because his wife has never been proud of america. He is not qualified because he cannot not even bring himself to cover his heart with his hand to show respect for this nation. He is not qualified because he will go to Tehran and sell us out in his talks with those muslim madmen who cannot be trusted. He is not qualified because his cradel to grave socialism will bankrupt us. He is not qualified because he will pull out of Iraq in the middle of our success and allow Osama bin Laden access to the oil needed by America.

He is not qualified. And when I point this out I am called a racist. Well, I am glad white guilt has gotten to you since you are nothing but a RINO. Go join the Dems and quit diluting our GOP gene pool, friend. Bet you voted for fatso tree-hugger in 2000 and traitor Navy man in 2004.

McCain is the way.

You're the one losing it, actually you've already lost it. You finally got your ass half way off your bigoted saddle. I'm not here to defend Mr Obama. At least you started talking about some issues. Even if they are a bit twisted and misunderstood. Like I said, I don't like many of his political views. But not in the way you see them.

Twisted and Misunderstood? Look in the dictionary under Thomask and you will see the very diffinition of "White Guilt."

What, am I suppose to be ashamed of your label? But seriously Raymond, I don't feel guilt. I've never owned a slave. I've never made a black person drink out of a different water fountain than the one I drink out of. Or any of the other Jim Crow laws our country had in place until 1964. Pull your head out Raymond. Our history isn't as white as your lilly white smart aleck face. The way you talk here is disgusting.

=====

Re:Clinton poised for W.Va. win; Obama looks ahead

Posted by ericmiami - 2008/05/14 16:29

Speaking of disgusting, did anyone notice Hillary's story about the "dead woman's vote" last night during her victory speech? That was tasteless, even by Clintonian standards.

=====

Re:Clinton poised for W.Va. win; Obama looks ahead

Posted by Betz - 2008/05/14 16:35

ericmiami wrote:

Speaking of disgusting, did anyone notice Hillary's story about the "dead woman's vote" last night during her victory speech? That was tasteless, even by Clintonian standards.

I'm going to have to look that one up later. :ohmy:

=====

Re:Clinton poised for W.Va. win; Obama looks ahead

Posted by ericmiami - 2008/05/14 16:40

Nobody so far has mentioned it. I'm hoping Keith Olbermann will have something later. She told a tale of a woman on her death bed in hospice sending her daughter to get a write-in ballot so she could vote for Hillary. She died three days later. Hillary said the woman created a legacy for herself by so voting. I almost barfed.

=====