Donny Osmond is not slowing down. At all.

The former teen idol turns 50 today, and is trying to show that he's anything but a has-been. He just finished a European tour and has since been reporting for "Entertainment Tonight" on his sister Marie's performance on ABC's "Dancing with the Stars." His latest CD, "Love Songs of the '70s," went gold in a week, and he says his phone is ringing off the hook.

Now what I cant stand aboutr this article is just one simple phrase. Somewhere in the article the next line is printed: "He just finished a European tour and has since" Donny never toured outside England, Scotland, Wales, Rep of Ireland & Northern Ireland (as far as Europe and recent touring is concerned). And this is not the first time such a line is printed in an article. I wonder why they do that. For Donny there are only 2 or maybe 3 areas to visit (when it comes to touring). That are USA, UK and maybe Australia. And UK isnt similar to/with Europe (and the other way around of course). Since Osmond's '70s heydays he never toured mainland Europe. So please stop using the word European when its not appropriate and not applicable. Robert

Hi everyone, I have to agree with haighton, Calling a British Tour, European is like calling a tour of Iowa an American tour.Saying that, I do have every respect for Donny, and his hard work ethics, which have seen him rise to the top again. Just like cream in a milk bottle....lol

Happy Birthday Donny.

You've been a great ambassador for the state of Utah and for the faith to which you belong. You are a good man, a good husband, great father, and you honored your parents. Plus, you can sing a pretty good song.

With all his well documented boozing, partying, wild-women and illegal drugs, it's surprising he made it to 30 let alone 50!

Oh man, now I feel old! :D

Donny used to make me swoon - now to think I'm swooning over a 50 year old! I still think he's kind of cute. ;)

It,s amazing that he looks so good, I thought the article was a very positive one and I am very glad that he is still in the business to make so many people happy. His concerts were very entertaining, and after 32 yrs of being an Osmond Fan I am glad they are all still around. Roll on May 2008 for their concerts with all the family, which we have been waiting for over 20yrs for....karen Ellis. Thanks Donny and all the Osmonds.

What a wonderful article! Donny and his entire family have been a wonderful example to us for many, many years! I think it is wonderful that their deep faith and commitment to family life is becoming more and more visible to the public.

Happy 50th birthday, Donny! You still look good to me!!

Right...Donny is 50; looking forward to Donny, part 2 article when Donny turns 60; how about part 3, at 70? Hey man, cool. As he says, there's an awful lot more yet to come. Gag.

No one is shocked when the average person turns 50 , but somehow its a miracle that a former teen star does. It puts us all face to face with advancing time.

Donny and his family are benchmarks in our memories. Its hard to believe that much time has passed since we were all young.
