
Abuse in the welfare system

Posted by mediabob - 2008/02/18 17:42

I have no problems with the individuals that need public assistance. However there are those that are taking advantage where audits need to be done. Help should be strictly for rent, food, utilities, & public transportation. It is not for those that refuse to work. Further more the assistance is not for taxpayers to financially support their smoking habits, car title loans, vehicle insurance etc. What happens if they cause an accident & they are at fault? Well our tax dollars are not for that. There also needs to be a limit as far as how long anyone can receive assistance. Supposedly there is but I also feel that if you can not supposedly mentally go to work then how the heck can you be sane to drive.

=====

Re:Abuse in the welfare system

Posted by cutie_tech123 - 2008/05/06 23:45

My husband too was abused. He was not given a chance to speak up for his self. He was fired out by their head, Dr. Cynthia Tabaco because she believe on what the others told her about my husband without even asking him the truth. My husband's co-workers knew that he will be fired but my husband don't know about it. And this doctor told stories about us which is not true.

I don't know what to do with it. I want to get vengeance on what happen to my husband. My kids were still young and what would we give to them now that my husband has no work?

What should I suppose to do? Should we fight for the right of my husband?

cutie_tech123

New York Immigration Lawyer Marina Shepelsky, located in Brooklyn, assists clients from the New York metro area and across the United States in all immigration and naturalization matters <http://www.e-us-visa.com>

=====