

---

Confessions of an Economic Hit Man

Posted by alternativecatll - 2008/07/14 21:28

---

Mark Maxon read a bit of this book on the air today, and it was pretty interesting. The Paragraphs Mark read pertained to John Perkins spending time in Indonesia to setup sweatshops.

John also covers the rise to power of Hugo Chavez in his book.

The author John Perkins will be on the show tomorrow. It appears Perkins spent the 1970s working as an economic planner for an international consulting firm.

http://www.amazon.com/Confessions-Economic-Hit-John-Perkins/dp/0452287081/ref=pd\_bbs\_sr\_1?ie=UTF8&s=books&qid=1216085881&sr=1-1

If anyone would like to hear John on the show tomorrow it's AM 630 or online at <http://k-talk.com>

=====

Re:Confessions of an Economic Hit Man

Posted by ThomasK - 2008/07/17 14:39

---

alternativecatll wrote:

Mark Maxon read a bit of this book on the air today, and it was pretty interesting. The Paragraphs Mark read pertained to John Perkins spending time in Indonesia to setup sweatshops.

John also covers the rise to power of Hugo Chavez in his book.

The author John Perkins will be on the show tomorrow. It appears Perkins spent the 1970s working as an economic planner for an international consulting firm.

http://www.amazon.com/Confessions-Economic-Hit-John-Perkins/dp/0452287081/ref=pd\_bbs\_sr\_1?ie=UTF8&s=books&qid=1216085881&sr=1-1

If anyone would like to hear John on the show tomorrow it's AM 630 or online at <http://k-talk.com>

The review from Publishers Weekly from the Amazon.com website you posted is interesting:

His claim to have assisted the House of Saud in strengthening its ties to American power brokers may be timely enough to attract some attention, but the yarn he spins is ultimately unconvincing, except perhaps to conspiracy buffs.

I'm sure Keeper will get off on this.

=====

Re:Confessions of an Economic Hit Man

Posted by xss500 - 2008/07/24 07:54

---

Obama is a man of principles. I like him due to his bright vision....
Addiction Recovery Utah

=====

Re:Confessions of an Economic Hit Man

Posted by alternativecatll - 2008/07/24 20:24

---

ThomasK wrote:

alternativecatll wrote:

Mark Maxon read a bit of this book on the air today, and it was pretty interesting. The Paragraphs Mark read pertained to John Perkins spending time in Indonesia to setup sweatshops.

---

John also covers the rise to power of Hugo Chavez in his book.

The author John Perkins will be on the show tomorrow. It appears Perkins spent the 1970s working as an economic planner for an international consulting firm.

http://www.amazon.com/Confessions-Economic-Hit-John-Perkins/dp/0452287081/ref=pd\_bbs\_sr\_1?ie=UTF8&s=books&qid=1216085881&sr=1-1

If anyone would like to hear John on the show tomorrow it's AM 630 or online at <http://k-talk.com>

The review from Publishers Weekly from the Amazon.com website you posted is interesting:

His claim to have assisted the House of Saud in strengthening its ties to American power brokers may be timely enough to attract some attention, but the yarn he spins is ultimately unconvincing, except perhaps to conspiracy buffs.

I'm sure Keeper will get off on this.

If you listened to the show (which I did), Mr. Perkins says he has passports to prove he was everywhere he said he was in the book, and his publisher verified that. Mr. Perkins does make some petty damning accusations. What would you expect the business community to say? "Yes we're screwing people over. We're sorry about that and we're going to make it all better." I believe it's easier to claim Mr. Perkins is a conspiracy theorist.

It's just like the Security Prosperity Partnership. People claimed it was a conspiracy theory, over and over. Then you see Marcy Kaptur on the floor of Congress telling people about it <http://uk.youtube.com/watch?v=TShPYA-OuPs> Now the doubters are saying, "Well yeah, but it's not really a bad thing. We're in a Global Economy"

What I'm really getting at is you should hear what John Perkins has to say. Then decide for your self if his stories of screwing people over are fiction or real. We know there are sweat shops in other countries. This book is about how this man is responsible for some of them.

=====

Re:Confessions of an Economic Hit Man

Posted by alternativecatll - 2008/07/24 20:42

xss500 wrote:

Obama is a man of principles. I like him due to his bright vision....

Addiction Recovery Utah

Obama is a man of principles and vision? Like how he said he would get rid of NAFTA, but now says he supports it?

If you want to see why NAFTA is so bad, check out the video I just posted in my last post

<http://uk.youtube.com/watch?v=TShPYA-OuPs>.

Or this article on how NAFTA screwed over the American people and the poor of Mexico. It increased illegal immigration by 60%.

<http://www.sanders.senate.gov/news/record.cfm?id=286851>

Obama said he would not support FISA, then he voted for it.

Senate votes <http://www.govtrack.us/congress/vote.xpd?vote=s2008-168>

Obama will support S. 1959 "The Violent Radicalized Homegrown Terrorist Prevention Act"

http://digg.com/politics/Senate\_Bill\_to\_Criminalize\_Thoughts\_Blogs\_Books\_and\_Free\_Speech?t=10925739#c10925739

You might think BYU Professor Steven Jones is nuts, but if he doesn't have the right to say 911 was an inside job, you won't have the right to say George Bush should be prosecuted for war crimes.

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=N5NJoZRYOJk>

You might think Naomi Wolf is over the top. She claims one thing a government does to take people's rights away, is focus on US citizens as the enemy. You have to take an external threat and turn it into an internal threat. That's just what S. 1959 does--and Obama supports it

http://digg.com/politics/Senate\_Bill\_to\_Criminalize\_Thoughts\_Blogs\_Books\_and\_Free\_Speech?t=10925739#c10925739

---

<http://mrxfromplanetx.com/naomi-wolf>

Obama even promised AIPAC he will be tougher on Iran than McCain and insinuated we should have invaded Iran rather than Iraq--BAD idea

<http://alternativeconservative.com/2008/06/23/is-obama-tougher-on-iran-than-mccain>

=====